Mostly Music was started 46 years ago when Westfield resident and Juilliard graduate Claire Angel invited several professional musicians from the New York Philharmonic to present chamber music concerts, along with discussions about the pieces, at her home in Westfield, NJ. The concerts and discussions were so well-received that the audience soon exceeded the space of a living room and moved to Temple Emanu-El in Westfield. A 501c3 nonprofit was formed and Mostly Music, Inc. was born.

Artistic directors--renowned violinist Ani Kavafian and the New York Philharmonic's principal cellist Carter Brey—expanded the list of outstanding guest artists from the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center and the New York Philharmonic to include leading soloists and ensembles from around the world, such as Jeremy Denk, Misha Dichter, Ruth Laredo, David Shifrin, Anthony McGill, the Amphion String Quartet and the Shanghai Quartet. In 2016, noted violist Paul Neubauer became the artistic director of Mostly Music and has continued to bring renowned guest musicians to Westfield. The concerts are free for students under age 21. Concert programs are distributed to approximately 1500 people over the season.

Concerts will be held on Sunday afternoons five times a season, September through May.

The deadline to be included in all five programs is October 3, 2025.

Yes, I would like to sponsor a concert or be included in the five concert programs for Mostly Music's 46th season. The programs are 5.5 x 8.5 inch booklets.
